

Need a Good Book?

Recent reads from our AL members

We Were the Lucky Ones, by Georgia Hunter

Pat Schmidt – “Since traveling to Germany last February, I’ve become very interested in reading books about World War II, and specifically stories of Holocaust survivors.”

The Distance Between Us by Renya Grande

Haley Staton – “For my ELL class we read a book titled The Distance Between Us and I highly recommend it! It was a quick read but very informative and eye opening as to the life some students may have outside of the classroom.”

The Valley of the Dry Bones by Jerry Jenkins, co-author of the Left Behind series

Wanda Love - A 17- year drought, earthquakes and wildfires have left California uninhabitable. Less than 1% of the population remain – by choice or necessity. Sixteen, who call themselves The Holdouts stay at their own risk to minister to the stragglers.

Moloka’i by Alan Brennert and Daughter of Moloka’i by Alan Brennert

Irma Snider – These are historical novels. The second title is the sequel to the first.

Where the Crawdads Sing - Delia Owens

Mary Garrison
Sharman Norman

The Nickel Boys by Colson Whitehead.

Linda Flynn – This book is by the same author who received the Pulitzer Prize for The Underground Railroad in 2017.

Clock Dance by Anne Tyler

Annabelle Hurd

The Last Castle by Denise Kiernan (This book is about the Biltmore Estate.)

The Best of Enemies by Osha Gray Davidson (This book is about segregation in Durham, NC.)

Linda Soble

The Convenient Groom by Denise Hunter

Marilyn Yoder

When Things Fall Apart-Heart Advice for Difficult Times by Pena Chodron

Nan Croft

Before We Were Yours by Lisa Wingate

Julia Keyse

Render Unto the Valley by Rose Senehi (Fairview, NC Author)

Carol Walters