Rose Award, Marilyn Yoder, Linda Paulus, Co-Chairs: Emails with Rose Award forms have been sent to members who will collect info and documentation by February 1 for Linda Paulus and Marilyn Yoder. Thank you for collecting documentation for the Rose Bud and Rose award. Please get your materials in via mail, in person or email. Linda Paulus gets Rose Bud items and Marilyn Yoder will accept the Rose Award items. Turning in materials by January 27 will be much appreciated. Since 2012 Alpha Lambda has been in the highest award category for NC DKG. Let's continue the high recognition in 2023-24!!

Finance, Diane Dotson, Chair: We will take an Ingles gift card order at our meeting on January 20. If you are not attending the meeting please email Sharman Norman and Diane Dotson telling how many gift cards in what denominations. You can mail the check to Sharman. If you would like your gift cards mailed to you, please bring a stamped self-addressed envelope to the meeting. Thank you for supporting this easy fundraiser.

Membership, Linda Underwoood, Chair: Please be sure to be on the lookout for potential candidates for membership. You can get a pamphlet at the meeting that has great information about DKG to give to them.

Scholarship, Sharon Johnson, Chair: February 1st is the deadline for the Candy Priest Grants. Grant funds aid chapter members who have been active members of the Alpha Lambda Chapter for one year. Grants are provided for an active member who is serving as an employee or volunteer in the schools or community. These can be used for materials, programs, conferences, conventions, recertifications, workshops, or other legitimate study experiences. Applications are online or can be picked up at the meeting. Also, this April, we will be having the Ceremony of Remembrance. Please consider giving in Memory or in Honor of individuals to provide funds for the Kessler Grant. Donation forms can be found online or at the meeting.

Beginning Teacher Support, Jan King, Chair: Tissues for February: We will continue to support winter 'germ season' with a restock of tissues for beginning teachers in the winter.

The Alpha Lambda Christmas Auction was a huge success! It brought out the creativity in our members! Thank you for supporting this event!

Remember Carol Walters' request for members to bring a sample(s) of your handwork to the January meeting no later than 8:55. She will need time to place it on display. Examples of things you might bring: photos, recording of music (bring something on which to play the recording), needlework, sewing, painting, floral arrangements, etc. Be willing to share anything you have produced because of your passion for that artform.

NEWS FROM HALEY DUNNIGAN, KESSLER GRANT RECIPIENT

I completed my finals for the fall semester and achieved all A's which allowed a 4.0 semester again, as well as making UNC's Dean's List. Since being home for winter break, I worked almost every day at my food running job at Mills River Brew-almost every day at my food running job at Mills River Brewery! I, also, unfortunately, had to get my wisdom teeth out over break—right before Christmas day, too! Luckily, my recovery has been easy.

My dance team's fall showcase went extremely well, and I am being given the opportunity to choreograph for my team for the spring semester—which I have yet to do during my time on the team. The picture is of my friends Grace and Victoria and me after my dance team's fall showcase! I am extremely excited about this. I also was able to win a student lottery ticket and attend my first basketball game of the season with my best friend. It was so much fun!

I now am starting to prepare for this next semester. I cannot believe I am halfway through my third year at Carolina! It has grown into such a special experience for me. This coming semester I am taking even more master-level courses (i.e., Innovative and Engaging Teaching, and Teaching English Language Learners). I also am taking more history courses to fulfill my minor, one of which I am extremely excited about: Why History Matters to Public Policy. I have gained an interest and appreciation for educational policy during my time at UNC, so this course will be a great course for me to grow my foundational policy knowledge.

How much storage do you need for your mobile phone?

You're the type of person who doesn't let your phone run your life (good for you!). Of course, it's always a good idea to have your device handy in case of emergencies. You also enjoy using your phone to search the web at the doctor's office, and you also like snapping a few photos at the occasional family gathering. And other than using your smartphone to set an alarm or two, that's pretty much the extent of your device usage. If this sounds like you, you're probably not going to need very much storage space at all.

You like being on your phone, and you like using it for everything. You've always got a decent handful of apps downloaded to your smartphone, and a couple of them are usually high-performance games. You also enjoy posting to social media on a near-daily basis, and you'll snap a photo or video of just about anything cool you see out in the world.

We'll call this the middle-ground between "a little" and "a lot" of needed storage space. This type of user should look at the 256GB version of the iPhone 15, or maybe even the iPhone 15 Plus. And over in Android Land, this user type should also invest in 256GB for the Samsung Galaxy S23, or the Samsung Galaxy S23+.
